REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

We feel confident to say that our schools the past year have made excellent progress along the best lines of study; that our teachers, for the most part, have been faithful, pains-taking, and possessed with an ardent love of their work.

The Pine Grove school was taught the entire year by Miss Josie Brisson of Lancaster, who, although a young teacher, was thorough and up to date. The school was small, but the same methods were used as in conducting larger schools, and great improvement was noticed.

The Applebee school was taught, for the greater part of the year, by Miss Mabel Hall of Jefferson, who gave excellent satisfaction. The attendance was unusually good. During the last term, every pupil was on the roll of honor.

Cherry Mountain school was in charge of Mrs. Lizzie Kennett for the year, with the exception of five weeks' teaching by Miss Gould of Littleton. Mrs. Kennett has taught over fifty terms of school and she spared no pains in the instruction of her pupils, especially in arithmetic. Attendance good.

The Town House school was taught one term by Miss Clara Pinkham of Whitefield; the last two by Miss Gertrude Hickey of Groveton, both teachers of excellent education, and employing the most modern methods of thorough instruction. This school is very well advanced, languages and higher mathematics finding a place. The pupils are studious and ambitious and rank high in deportment. Attendance very good.

The Fabyan school was taught the entire year by Miss M. Jennie O'Connell of Lancaster, whose work is of a high order; excellent progress was made by all the pupils that were constant in attendance. Miss O'Connell's services gave satisfaction to the district, and there is an earnest desire for her return.

The Twin Mountain grammar room was taught through the year by Miss Edith A. Ray of Whitefield, who put forth every effort for the advancement of her pupils, and the good results were very much in evidence. Ambitious and enthusiastic herself, her pupils have imbibed the same spirit, and a goodly class will be ready to enter high school in the fall if they so desire.

The Twin Mountain primary room was in charge of Mrs. Florence J. Allen of Boston for two terms of the year, and good work was manifest, both in government and instruction. Mrs. Allen has what is called a "faculty" for getting along with restless little ones who have for her the most affectionate regard. To our great regret and the sorrow of her school she was not able to return for the last term, and her place was supplied by Miss Florence Hickey, of Groveton, who did admirable work. She has had three years' experience and we are glad to state, successful experience. Both Miss Hickey and Miss Ray return for the next year.

A good deal of attention has been given to the neatness and decoration of school rooms, to patriotic instruction, evils of alcoholic and narcotic stimulants, composition and rhetorical exercises, and many other good things outside the beaten path of text-books.

Our schools lack musical instruction which many pupils are well fitted by nature to receive, but our little town does not think it can afford it just yet, so we will continue to hope.

Our attention has been called in some schools to the sad fact of poor attendance. Parents, do not keep your children out of school for anything but sickness. Punctuality is the very heart and core of school-room progress and a teacher's heart is cheered by a clear register and a good per cent. Our state aid depends on good attendance, but of far more importance is the advantage to the pupils themselves.

Pupils receiving rolls of honor for one or more terms: Thomas Mountain, James Monohan, Flora Hanning, Alice Monohan, Grace Gannon, Lizzie E. Monohan, Gertrude Gannon, Annie Fahey, Patrick Fahey, Herbert McGee, Richard Fahey, Charlie Jobin, Theresa Cote, Margaret O'Donnell, Earl Brill, Oscar Ramsdell, Mabel Miles, Mitchell Liberty, Lila Ramsdell, Almeda Rines, Hattie Brill, Marie O'Donnell, Emma Hughes, Charles McGee, Grace Cote, Millie Elliott, Bessie Ingerson, Hattie Ingerson, Bernice Ingerson, Hazel Hunt, Mamie Whalen, Gertrude Whalen, Ernest Ingerson, Sadie Ingerson, Elwerth McMillan, Roy Brown, Ellen B. King, Clarence Brown, John Kelly, James Kelly, Anna Hunt, Arthur Heath, Forest Heath, Martha Damon; for the entire year: Clarence Brown, and John Kelly and B. Ellen King were absent but one-half day of the year, and that caused by intense cold and the long distance from the latter's home. That this number may be largely increased in the year 1904 is our most earnest wish.
